I. HISTORY AND ORGANIZATION

A school of law and jurisprudence was contemplated in the original plan for The University of Chicago. The school should, according to William Rainey Harper, the first president of the University, be more than a training institution for admission to the bar. An education in law, President Harper said, "implies a scientific knowledge of law and of legal and juristic methods. These are the crystallization of ages of human progress. They cannot be understood in their entirety without a clear comprehension of the historic forces of which they are the product, and of the social environment with which they are in living contact. A scientific study of law involves the related sciences of history, economics, philosophy—the whole field of man as a social being." Consequently, the law school was not to be an institution which had a merely nominal connection with the University, and it was not to be separated either by location or spirit from the University at large. It should be, the President felt, an organic part of the University, in close touch with the other divisions, embodying the spirit and purpose of University life and, in turn, contributing to that life.

In 1902 President Harper's plan was approved by the Trustees, and the Law School was opened in October of that year.* The goal of the School as stated in the first Announcements was "to afford adequate preparation for the practice of law as a profession in any jurisdiction in which the common law prevails, and to cultivate and encourage the scientific study of systematic and comparative jurisprudence, legal history, and principles of legislation."

The first Dean was Joseph Henry Beale. In 1904, Mr. Beale was succeeded by James Parker Hall, who continued as Dean until his death in 1928. In 1929, Harry Augustus Bigelow, a member of the Faculty since 1904, was appointed Dean and served in that capacity until his retirement in 1939. Since 1939, Wilber Griffith Katz has been the Dean of the School.

II. GENERAL STATEMENT

The curriculum of the Law School is designed not only to prepare students for professional activities as legal advocates and counselors but also to afford preparation for judicial, legislative, and administrative positions. The program is based upon a belief that the more important problems confronting lawyers, judges, and legislators are basically economic and social, and that broad training is necessary to afford an adequate preparation for significant work in these fields. The legal problems of a nation at war and the prospect of post-war adjustments in the legal order have reinforced this belief. The program of the School is therefore planned to give the student proficiency in the technical and traditional legal subjects and to integrate the study of those subjects and of subjects such as accounting, economics, history, philosophy, political science, and sociology. The study of legal history, jurisprudence, and comparative law is introduced as contributing to this integration.

The School offers the following programs: the Four-Year Program, the Three-Year Program, the Master of Laws Program, and the Doctor of Jurisprudence (Research) Program.*

The Four-Year Program is offered for students who have completed two years of approved college study. For the duration of the war, the Three-Year Program, which is normally restricted to college graduates, will be open to students with three years of approved college study. The Master of Laws and the Doctor of Jurisprudence (Research) programs are designed for graduates of approved law schools.

During the war the School intends to offer instruction in each of the four academic quarters. A student who elects to attend four quarters a year may complete the Three-Year Program in two and one-fourth years and the Four-Year Program in three years. Students (both beginning and advanced) may enter the School at the beginning of any quarter, including the Summer Quarter.

III. REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION AND REGISTRATION

Enrolment in the School is restricted. Applications for admission must be made upon a form obtained from the office of the Dean of the Law School. Each application must be accompanied by an official transcript of the applicant's college record. Applicants may be asked to have an interview with a member of the Faculty or an alumnus of the School. Students register in the office of the Dean at the beginning of each quarter. A student whose work is unsatisfactory will not be permitted to continue in the School.

IV. PROGRAMS OF INSTRUCTION AND DEGREES

THE FOUR-YEAR PROGRAM

The Four-Year Program is designed for students who have: (1) been graduated from the College of the University of Chicago; or (2) been graduated from an approved junior college; or (3) completed at least two years of acceptable college work in an institution accredited to the University of Chicago.

Instruction is afforded by classroom discussion of selected cases and materials, supplemented by lectures and tutorial guidance in individual researches. The work of each year is treated as a unit, and emphasis is placed upon the interrelations in the material studied in the various courses. Progress of the student is determined by examinations and by the individual papers prepared by him. Details of the program are given on pages 7-10.

The degree of Doctor of Law (J.D.) is awarded to students of the Four-Year Program who have been in residence for twelve quarters and who have demonstrated by their standing in the examinations and by their individual investigations and reports a mastery of the fields included in the required program and who have successfully completed the work in five elective seminars or courses or equivalent individual work approved by the Faculty.

THE THREE-YEAR PROGRAM

The Three-Year Program is normally open only to college graduates. During the war, however, it will be open to students who have completed three years of approved college study. The methods of instruction and of examination are the same as those described above. The details of the program are given on page 10.

The degree of Doctor of Law (J.D.) is awarded to students of the Three-Year Program who have been in residence for nine quarters and who have demonstrated by their standing in the examinations and by their individual investigations and reports a mastery of the fields included in the required program and who have successfully completed the work in three elective seminars or courses or equivalent individual work approved by the Faculty.

THE MASTER OF LAWS PROGRAM

The Master of Laws Program is designed for graduates of approved law schools who wish to study the relations between law and other social sciences. It is open to graduates of law schools which are members of the Association of American Law Schools or approved by the American Bar Association and to graduates of foreign schools of comparable standing. The normal program includes Law and Economic Organization (see pages 8-9) and three seminars or courses (or equivalent individual work) selected with the approval of the faculty committee on graduate study. The degree of Master of Laws (LL.M.) is awarded to students who have been in residence for three quarters and who have successfully completed the work of this program.

THE DOCTOR OF JURISPRUDENCE (RESEARCH) PROGRAM

The Doctor of Jurisprudence Program is designed for students who, in the opinion of the Faculty, are qualified to do research on advanced problems in law.

The degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence (J.S.D.) is awarded to research students who have been in residence at the School for at least three quarters, have pursued such studies as the Faculty has prescribed, and have submitted a dissertation which has been accepted by the Faculty as a creditable contribution to legal science.

VI. LECTURES

During the Autumn Quarter, Thurman Wesley Arnold, Associate Justice, United States Court of Appeals, District of Columbia, will give a series of lectures under the auspices of the Charles R. Walgreen Foundation. The subject and the dates of the lectures will be announced early in October.

VII. EQUIPMENT

The Law School occupies a building situated on the Quadrangles of the University near Fifty-ninth Street and University Avenue. The building was especially designed for the use of the School by Messrs. Shepley, Rutan, and Coolidge, and the cornerstone was laid on April 2, 1903, by President Theodore Roosevelt. Built of Bedford stone in the English Gothic style, its external appearance is suggestive of the Chapel of King's College, Cambridge. In the basement are seminar rooms, a clubroom, lockers, and library stack-rooms. On the first floor are two large classrooms and a court room. The mezzanine floor is occupied by the library stackroom containing stacks for 100,000 volumes. Opening into the stackroom are the offices of the Faculty and the Librarian. On the third floor is the Law Library reading room, a great hall one hundred and eighty feet long and fifty feet wide, with timbered roof and clerestory windows on all sides. It has wall shelves for 15,000 volumes and tables for 350 readers. A bridge affords a direct connection between the reading rooms of the library of the Law School and the Harper Memorial Library.

On the walls of the building are hung the Charles B. Pike Collection of etchings and engravings of English and American judges and lawyers, and also portraits of various members of the Faculty and benefactors of the School.

The Law Library, containing approximately 114,000 volumes, has substantially all the reported decisions of the courts of the United States and of England, Scotland, Ireland, Canada, Australia, and the other parts of the British Empire, together with the statutes and session laws, textbooks, periodicals, digests, encyclopedias, and sets of classified and annotated reports of these jurisdictions. The Library has an extensive collection of the original briefs and records of cases in the Supreme Court of the United States. It also has a representative collection of the reports and opinions of various state and federal administrative agencies and the proceedings of various bar associations. The Library has an important collection of materials dealing with Greek and Roman law and the law of Austria, Belgium, Denmark, France, Germany, Holland, Italy, Mexico, Spain, and Switzerland. In addition, the students of the School have ready access to the Harper Memorial Library, which contains approximately 1,500,000 volumes, and to the libraries of the Public Administration Clearing House and of the Rosenwald Museum of Science and Industry.

The Law Library has three special funds at its disposal to supplement general library appropriations. These are the James Nelson Raymond Memorial Fund, established in 1929 by Anna L. Raymond as a memorial to her husband, James Nelson Raymond, an eminent businessman of Chicago; the Wallace Heckman Memorial Fund, established in 1929 by Mrs. Wallace Heckman as a memorial to her husband, Wallace Heckman, Business Manager of the University from 1903 to 1924; and the William B. Hale Fund, established in 1944 by the family of Mr. Hale to further the study of monopoly.

VIII. PROFESSORSHIPS

The John P. Wilson Professorship in Law.—This professorship was established in 1929 with funds contributed for the John P. Wilson Memorial Foundation by John P. Wilson, Jr., and Anna Wilson Dickinson as a memorial to their father, John P. Wilson, for many years an eminent member of the Chicago Bar. The present holder of the professorship is Wilber Griffith Katz.

The James Parker Hall Professorship in Law.—This professorship was established in 1930 by the alumni of the School in memory of James Parker Hall, Dean of the School from 1904 until his death in 1928. The present holder of the professorship is George Gleason Bogert.

The Max Pam Professorship of Comparative Law.—This professorship was established in 1935 in memory of Max Pam, for many years an eminent member of the Chicago Bar, with funds allocated by the Trustees under the will of Mr. Pam. The present holder of the professorship is Max Rheinstein.

IX. STUDENT AID

SCHOLARSHIPS

A number of scholarships are awarded to students of outstanding ability who need financial assistance. Some of these scholarships are for full tuition, some for half tuition, and some in amounts in excess of the tuition charge. Application for scholarships should be made upon a form obtained from the office of the Dean of the Law School (except in the cases specified below).

The James Nelson Raymond Scholarships were established in 1930 from a fund given by Anna Louise Raymond in memory of her husband, James Nelson Raymond. The income of the fund is used to provide three annual scholarships of approximately $500 each. In 1943-44 James Nelson Raymond Scholarships were awarded to the following: Fritz L. Braunfeld, Dr. Juris.,

University of Vienna (Austria); Sylvester J. Petro, A.B., University of Chicago; and Margaret P. Reichardt, University of Chicago.

The Leo F. Wormser Scholarships were established in 1935 by friends of Leo F. Wormser, J.D. 1909, as a memorial to him. In 1940 an additional gift to this scholarship fund was made by Mrs. Leo F. Wormser in memory of Mr. Wormser's mother, Mrs. Frida Wormser. Three scholarships, each paying full tuition, are awarded annually from this fund. In 1943-44 Leo F. Wormser Scholarships were awarded to Wilhelm Moll, B.A., Denison University; Robert C. Sorensen, Northwestern University; and H. Harold Soshnick, A.B., Wabash College.

Alumni Anniversary Scholarships are provided from funds contributed by various classes upon the occasion of special anniversaries of their graduation. In 1943 a contribution from the Class of 1933 on the occasion of its tenth anniversary was added to the fund. A portion of the fund has been reserved for students who have withdrawn from the School to enter the armed forces of the United States.

University Scholarships are awarded from a fund annually allotted to the School by the Trustees of the University. These scholarships may be for either full or half tuition.

One of the James Nelson Raymond Scholarships (approximately $500) and a number of University Scholarships for full tuition are awarded to entering students. Holders of these scholarships who make outstanding records in the Law School receive renewals of their scholarships or equivalent awards. In addition to these scholarships, approximately one-fourth of the University Scholarships for half tuition are reserved for entering students.

Applications for the following scholarships are to be made to the Committee on Fellowships and Scholarships, Cobb Lecture Hall, Room 203, during the period from January 1 to April 1 for the year following:

Junior-College Honor Entrance Scholarships.—A number of full- and half-tuition scholarships are awarded annually to graduates of junior colleges and to students with equivalent college standing, upon the academic record of the student, upon performance in an aptitude test given by the University, and upon the recommendation of the faculty of the college.

Divisional Honor Entrance Scholarships.—A number of full- or part-tuition scholarships are awarded annually to students who have completed the work of the College of the University of Chicago. These scholarships are awarded to the students making the highest number of points in the examinations offered in fulfillment of the requirements of the College.

The LaVerne Noyes Foundation, established July 5, 1918 by the gift of LaVerne Noyes, provides part tuition fees for veterans of World War I and their descendants.

Marshall Field & Company Work-Scholarships.—A maximum of twenty-five full-tuition scholarships not to exceed $300 each are available annually to students of the University of Chicago who are employed by Marshall Field & Company under the study-employment plan. Remuneration for service is made in addition to the scholarship grant.

LOANS

Several loan funds are available to law students. Loans are usually granted only to students who have completed at least one year of residence in the School.

The Ernst Freund Loan Fund was established in 1922 by the late Professor Ernst Freund, and since his death has been augmented by other contributions.

The James Parker Hall Loan Fund was established by the alumni of the Law School in memory of the late Dean Hall.

The Floyd R. Mechem Loan Fund for Law Students was established in 1921 by the late Professor Floyd R. Mechem.

The Anna Louise Raymond Loan Fund was established by Anna Louise Raymond in 1932 for the benefit of students in the Law School, preference to be given to women students.

The Harry A. Bigelow Loan Fund was established in 1939 by the Law Class of 1929 in honor of Dean Bigelow.

The Julius Rosenthal Fund was established in 1903 by Judge Julian W. Mack in memory of Julius Rosenthal.

The Clark B. Whittier Law Loan Fund was established by Professor Clark B. Whittier in recognition of his previous connection with the University of Chicago Law School as a member of its Faculty.

University Tuition Loan Funds.—The University has established a loan fund from which loans may be made to students in need of financial assistance. The loans bear interest at 5 per cent, are for not over one year, but may on proper showing be extended.

A form of application for a loan may be obtained on request from the office of the Dean of the Law School.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR PART-TIME EMPLOYMENT

The facilities of the Board of Vocational Guidance and Placement are available for students of the Law School who desire part-time employment. For detailed information concerning the opportunities for such employment, applications should be made to the Board of Vocational Guidance and Placement, Room 215, Cobb Lecture Hall.

X. FELLOWSHIPS

The Law School has available a number of fellowships for graduate students.

Encyclopaedia Britannica, Inc., Fellowships (one or more) are assigned to students with considerable competence in the field of law. Britannica fellows engage in critical reading of the Encyclopaedia's present articles in their special fields and recommend revisions and revisers. They may expect sufficient free time to take two courses quarterly, for which they pay tuition on a pro-rata basis. Annual stipends range from $1,000 to $2,000. Application may be made at any time to the Committee on Fellowships and Scholarships, The University of Chicago.

The James Nelson Raymond Fellowship was created in 1933 and 1934 by Anna Louise Raymond in memory of her husband, James Nelson Raymond. The annual income is awarded to a research student in law whose record gives evidence of a capacity for distinguished work in legal research.

University Fellowships.—A limited number of fellowships are reserved for research students in law.

XI. HONORS AND PRIZES

The Chicago Chapter of the Order of the Coif is an honor society founded to encourage scholarship and to advance the ethical standards of the legal profession. Its members are selected each spring from the 10 per cent of the graduating class who rank highest in scholarship. In 1943-44 William J. Durka, A.B., University of Chicago, was elected to membership.

The Order of Wig and Robe offers an annual scholarship prize for excellence in the work of the first two years. Students under both the Four-Year and the Three-Year programs are eligible for the award.

The Nu Beta Epsilon fraternity has donated to the Law School a scholarship cup. A replica of the cup is awarded annually to the student who attains the highest standing in the work of the first year, and his name is engraved upon the scholarship cup. Students under both the Four-Year and the Three-Year programs are eligible for the award. In 1943-44 the Nu Beta Epsilon Cup was awarded to Zenia L. Sachs of the Class of 1945.

XII. STUDENT ACTIVITIES

The University of Chicago Law Review, founded in 1933, is published by the School under the management of a Board of Editors composed of students. In the autumn of each year the fifteen members of the second-year classes who rank highest in scholarship are invited to become competitors for election to the staff of the Review. From this group the Board of Editors chooses the editorial and business staff of the Review.

Because the size of the student body has been drastically reduced by the war, the management of the Review for the period of the emergency has been assumed by the Faculty. Professor Ernst W. Puttkammer has been designated Editor-in-Chief and a staff of student editors has been organized to assist with the publication of the Review.

Student editors for 1943-44 were William J. Durka, Sylvester J. Petro, George B. Pletsch, and M. Virginia Spence.

The University of Chicago Law School Bar Association is an affiliated branch of the Illinois State Bar Association. Membership in the Association is open to any student in the Law School, and officers are chosen from the student body. A number of meetings are held each year, at which judges or distinguished members of the bar give informal talks upon matters of professional interest. In 1943 the Association established a scholarship to assist veterans of World War II to resume their studies in the School. The officers of the Bar Association for 1943-44 were Nancy Kay Goodman, president; William J. Durka, vice-president; and Maynard I. Wishner, secretary.

The Barristers' Club is a moot court club which was organized in 1938 to afford its members training in the preparation of briefs and argument of cases on appeal. The Club selects its members upon the basis of the record made in the moot court work of the School and in the annual examinations. The Club aids in the supervision of the moot court class, participates in inter-school and intraschool moot court appellate and trial court competition. The President of the Barristers' Club for 1943-44 was Richard M. Stout.

The University of Chicago Legal Aid Group provides legal aid service at the University of Chicago Settlement.

Four legal fraternities, Nu Beta Epsilon, Phi Alpha Delta, Phi Delta Phi, Wig and Robe, and one legal sorority, Kappa Beta Pi, maintain chapters in the School.

XIII. FEES AND OTHER INFORMATION

FEES AND EXPENSES

1. Tuition fee.—The tuition fee in the Law School is $125 a quarter. A student is required to pay full tuition unless a reduced program of work and a proportionate reduction of fees are approved by the Dean. The same fees apply to visitors. Candidates for the degrees of Master of Laws (LL.M.) and Doctor of Jurisprudence (J.S.D.) pay a tuition fee of $100 a quarter.

2. Registration fee.—A registration fee of $3.00 is payable each quarter.

3. Health Service fee.—A fee of $3.00 is required quarterly of all students.

4. Graduation fee.—The graduation fee for each degree is $20.

5. Late fee, Student Health Service.—$2.00. See page 18.

6. Payment of bills.—Registration is not complete until the quarterly fees are paid. Fees are payable at the Office of the Bursar, Press Building, Room 100, during the first five days of the quarter, beginning with the first day of registration. For failure to pay the fees within that period a charge of $5.00 is added.

LIVING ACCOMMODATIONS

The University has various residence halls, dormitories, and apartments on the Quadrangles which afford comfortable and convenient living quarters for Law School students. These are under the supervision of the Bursar of the University and detailed information concerning these accommodations may be obtained from the Office of the Bursar, Room 100, Press Building.

During 1944-45, most of the University dormitories and residence halls will be occupied by members of the armed forces. The University will, however, make every effort to provide suitable living quarters for its civilian students. The Office of the Bursar maintains a listing and inspection service of accommodations available in private houses and apartments in the neighborhood of the University. Since the renting of such accommodations by correspondence is unsatisfactory, the lists are not sent by mail.

International House, the gift to Chicago of Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is designed primarily as a residence for foreign and American students and for members of the faculty and staff of the University who are interested in international fellowship and in problems of an international character. The building provides completely equipped living accommodations for five hundred men and women. Information may be obtained from the Office of Admissions and Membership, International House, 1414 East Fifty-ninth Street, Chicago 37, Illinois.

ESTIMATED EXPENSES

The following table gives an estimate of the annual expenses for three quarters (thirty-six weeks) of a student in the Law School.

	Low	Average
Tuition, registration, and Health Service fees.....	$393	$ 393
Rent and care of room.....	162	212
Board.....	300	350
Laundry and cleaning.....	40	70
Textbooks and supplies.....	60	75
Incidentals.....	45	100
Total.....	$1,000	$1,200

PRIVILEGES

Students in the Law School are entitled to the privileges of the University upon the same terms as other students. These privileges include admission to courses in other departments of the University, attendance at University lectures, the use of the University Libraries, Ida Noyes Hall (the Student Clubhouse), the swimming pool, the tennis courts, and the other facilities for physical education and for recreation, and the facilities of the University Health Service and of the Board of Vocational Guidance and Placement.

UNIVERSITY HEALTH SERVICE

CARE OF STUDENTS' HEALTH

The facilities and privileges of the University Health Service include all ambulatory medical treatment which can be given by the Health Service staff, emergency treatment at the hospitals when the Health Service is not open, ordinary laboratory tests, hospitalization for one week for any single illness, professional services during hospitalization, operating-room fees for emergency operations, and, when recommended by the Health Service staff, chest X-rays and one visit to another clinic for a single condition. The privileges do not include elective operations, private rooms, special nurses, medicines, and special expensive dressings, appliances, or treatments provided through the University Clinics.

House calls on students in the University district are made by physicians of the regular Health Service staff for a nominal charge.

MEDICAL EXAMINATION

A medical examination, appointment for which should be made at the time of registration, is required of every student in residence for the first time. The examination is designed to protect the individual against work for which he is physically unqualified, to discover defects and tendencies which may be corrected, and to guard the University community against communicable disease. Vaccination against smallpox is obligatory for all students.

Failure to report for a medical examination within the first two weeks of the quarter or to keep an appointment already made necessitates the payment of a late fee of $2.00.

RAILWAY AND BAGGAGE INFORMATION

Students coming to Chicago either by the Illinois Central (except those coming from Sioux City and intermediate points) or by the Big Four will find it convenient to leave the train at the Sixty-third Street and Dorchester Avenue Station. Most Michigan Central trains also stop at this station. Students arriving on the Rock Island, the New York Central, the Pennsylvania, or the Nickel Plate may leave the train at the Englewood Union Station (Sixty-third Street and Wentworth Avenue). Students coming by other roads than those mentioned are advised to leave their trains at the downtown terminals. When planning to leave the train at a South Side station, a student should purchase his ticket to that destination, as in most cases a slight saving in fare is effected.

Baggage may be checked to the stations indicated above. The Parmelee Company has a representative at the University, and arrangements for the transfer of baggage may be made at the University Information Office, Press Building, Room 100, 5758 Ellis Avenue.

GOING TO COLLEGE IN WARTIME

An illustrated booklet, The College of the University of Chicago, is available to those who request it. The booklet describes the University's four-year collegiate program, which students may enter after two years of high school.

The Chicago collegiate program was developed in peacetime but has proved to be uniquely adapted to the war situation. The curriculum stresses the liberal arts. Most students who enter the College following the sophomore year of high school can, with diligence and by eliminating vacations, achieve the A.B. or the Ph.B. degree by the age of eighteen. Entering classes will be admitted in June, September, and February.

The booklet may be obtained by writing to Dean William E. Scott, Entrance Counselor, The University of Chicago.
