

The Kreeger Chair

The Julius Kreeger Professorship of Law and Criminology has been established at the Law School in memory of a distinguished alumnus who was, for more than forty years, a prominent practitioner in Chicago.

NORVAL R. MORRIS, Professor of Law at the School since the Autumn Quarter, 1964, has been appointed to the chair.

The Kreeger Professorship was established with a gift from Mrs. Arthur Wolf in memory of her late husband, Julius Kreeger. In presenting the gift, Mrs. Wolf said: "I can think of no way more fitting to honor the memory of my late husband. Through the establishment of this professorship, my family and I hope to encourage the study of criminal law and advance the community's knowledge of how to deal effectively with one of society's greatest problems, that of criminal behavior."

Julius Kreeger, born in Chicago in 1896, received both his Ph.B., in 1917, and his J.D., in 1920, from the University. He practiced from 1921 until 1935 with the firm of Felsenthal, Struckman and Berger, and from 1935 until 1946 as a partner of Mayer and Kreeger; in 1946 he opened his own offices.

Mr. Kreeger was president of Motoramp Garages of Illinois, past President of the Standard Club and served on the board of Michael Reese Hospital Research Foundition, as chairman of his class in the Law School Annual Fund Campaigns, and as a member of the Mayor's Committee for a Chicago Subway.

Professor Morris, who was born in New Zealand in 1923, received both his LL.B. and LL.M. from the University of Melbourne. His Ph.D. thesis in criminology won the Hutchinson Medal from the London School of Economics of the University of London in 1950. After teaching at the London School of Economics, the University of Melbourne, Harvard and the University of Utah, he was appointed, in 1958, Bonython Professor of Law and Dean of the Faculty of Law at the University of Adelaide in Australia. From 1962 until 1964, he was Director of the Asia and Far East Institute for the Prevention of Crime and Treatment of Offenders, a United Nations agency. Among many other public service activities, Professor Morris served as Chairman of the Ceylon Commission on Capital Punishment, in 1958 and 1959.

The creation of the Kreeger Professorship, the presence on the Faculty of Norval Morris and University Professor Francis A. Allen, and the Ford Foundation grant for the establishment of the Center for Studies in Criminal Justice place the Law School in a quite remarkable position of strength in the criminal law field.
