A grant from the William Volker Fund of Kansas City made it possible for the Law School to conduct a conference on the Economics of Mobilization, on April 6, 7, and 8. Seventy-five leaders in law, economics, business, and government participated in the proceedings, which were held at The Greenbriar, White Sulphur Springs, under the direction of Professor Aaron Director. These proceedings will be published by the University of Chicago Press.

The Law School participates annually in a Federal Tax Conference, in co-operation with University College, Downtown Center, and the School of Business. The participation of the Law School in this Conference is under the chairmanship of Professor Walter Blum. The 1951–52 Conference will be held on October 31 and November 1, 2, 1951.

XIII. STUDENT ACTIVITIES AND HONORS

The University of Chicago Law Review, founded in 1933, is published by the School under the management of a Board of Editors composed of students. Members of the second-year classes who rank highest in scholarship are invited to become competitors for election to the staff of the Review. From this group the Board of Editors chooses the editorial staff. The Editor-in-Chief for 1950–51 was Abner J. Mikva. The Managing Editors were Howard Adler, Jr., Arnold M. Chutkow, Edward De Grazia, Herbert C. Ephraim, and Maynard J. Jaffe. The Associate Editors were Paul J. Allison, John Borst, Lawrence M. Friedman, Charles A. Lippitz, Alan S. Maremont, Charles F. Russ, Jr., and David M. Sloan.

The Chicago Chapter of the Order of the Coif is an honor society founded to encourage scholarship and to advance the ethical standards of the legal profession. Its members are elected each spring from the 10 per cent of the graduating class who rank highest in scholarship. In 1951 the elected members were Paul J. Allison, George Anastaplo, John Borst, Arnold Chutkow, Herbert Ephraim, Miles Jaffe, Robert Kharasch, Lawrence Lee, Abner Mikva, and Sheldon Stein.

The University of Chicago Law School Student Association sponsors various legal and social student functions throughout the year. All students in the School are members; officers are elected from each of the three classes. The officers for 1950–51 were: President, Robert N. Kharasch; Vice-President-Treasurer, Jack Whorton; Secretary, Freda Gould; Chairman of Committees, Paul Allison, Michael Daniels, and Albert Jones.

XIV. PLACEMENT

The Law School has a placement office to help students find suitable employment after their graduation. The placement office collaborates with the Law School Alumni Association, special placement groups in large cities, and the University's general placement office in securing information about openings in law offices, corporations, and government offices throughout the country, and in furnishing information about University of Chicago Law School graduates.

Early in their third year, students submit placement data indicating their plans and preferences after graduation. It is important that these records, which facilitate appropri-
