As chairman of the committee he devoted himself generously to raising funds for the American Bar Center. Untiring in his efforts on behalf of local, civic, and fraternal organizations, he also served as a member of the Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws, as vice-president from 1940 to 1943, president in 1943-44 and 1946-47, and as chairman of the Executive Committee from 1947 to 1949.
