

XIII. STUDENT ACTIVITIES AND HONORS

The University of Chicago Law Review, founded in 1933, is published by the School under the management of a Board of Editors composed of students. Members of the second-year classes who rank highest in scholarship are invited to become competitors for election to the staff of the Review. From this group the Board of Editors chooses the editorial staff of the Review.

The Editors-in-Chief for 1947-48 were Charles D. Stein (1947), Bernard B. Weissbourd (1948), and Donald J. Yellon (1948). Editors included William S. Boylston, Harold P. Green, Lawrence Howe, Jr., Jerald E. Jackson, Harold A. Katz, William T. Martin, Jr., James J. McClure, Jr., Baxter K. Richardson, Jr., Milton I. Shadur, and George E. Wise. The Business Manager was James H. Evans, and the Associate Business Manager was Joseph E. Sheeks.

The Chicago Chapter of the Order of the Coif is an honor society founded to encourage scholarship and to advance the ethical standards of the legal profession. Its members are selected each spring from the 10 per cent of the graduating class who rank highest in scholarship. In 1948 the elected members were Zenia Sachs Goodman, James T. Lyon, A. Bruce Mercer, Edwin A. Wahlen, Bernard B. Weissbourd, and Donald J. Yellon.

Through the courtesy of the publishers, an award of a one-year subscription to the United States Law Week is made each year to the student who has made the most satisfactory scholastic progress during his final year. The recipient of the award in 1948 was Robert A. McCord.
