

VII. FELLOWSHIPS

The Law School has available a number of fellowships and tutorial fellowships. Applications should be made not later than March 1.

The James Nelson Raymond Fellowship was created in 1933 and 1934 by Anna Louise Raymond in memory of her husband, James Nelson Raymond. The annual income is awarded to a research student in law whose record gives evidence of a capacity for distinguished work in legal research.

University Fellowships.—A limited number of fellowships are reserved for research students in law.

Tutorial Fellowships are awarded to law graduates whose records give evidence of a capacity for distinguished work in legal research and ability to supervise law students in writing and legal research. These fellowships have been in the amount of $1,800 each. For the year 1941-42 tutorial fellowships were awarded to Edgar E. Bethell, B.S., LL.B., University of Arkansas; David E. Feller, A.B., LL.B., Harvard University; Edward L. Friedman, Jr., B.S., College of the City of New York, LL.B., Columbia University; Jacobus ten Broek, A.B., A.M., LL.B., J.S.D., University of California.

VIII. HONORS AND PRIZES

The Chicago Chapter of the Order of the Coif is an honor society founded to encourage scholarship and to advance the ethical standards of the legal profession. Its members are selected each spring from the 10 per cent of the graduating class who rank highest in scholarship. In 1940-41 the following were elected to membership: Walter Blum, A.B., University of Chicago; James A. Dunkin, A.B., University of Chicago; J. Gordon Henry, A.B., Washington and Jefferson College; Byron Edward Kabot, A.B., University of Chicago; Jerome S. Katzin, A.B., University of Chicago.

The Order of Wig and Robe offers an annual scholarship prize of $100 to the student who attains the highest standing in the work of the first two years. Students under both the Four-Year and the Three-Year programs are eligible for the award. In 1941-42 the Wig and Robe prize was awarded to Richard F. Watt of the Class of 1942.

The Nu Beta Epsilon fraternity has donated to the Law School a scholarship cup. A replica of the cup is awarded annually to the student who attains the highest standing in the work of the first year, and his name is engraved upon the scholarship cup. Students under both the Four-Year and the Three-Year programs are eligible for the award. In 1941-42 the Nu Beta Epsilon Cup was awarded to John Paul Good, of the Class of 1943.

The Nathan Burkan Memorial Prize, established in 1937 by the American Society of Composers, Authors, and Publishers in memory of Nathan Burkan, is an annual prize of $100 awarded to a member of the Senior class for the best paper upon copyright law.
