THE LAW SCHOOL

THE FACULTY (SUMMER QUARTER, 1917)

Harry Pratt Judson, A.M., LL.D., President of the University.
James Parker Hall, A.B., LL.B., Professor of Law; Dean of the Law School.
Harry Augustus Bigelow, A.B., LL.B., Professor of Law.
Ernst Freund, Ph.D., J.U.D., Professor of Law.
Edward Wilcox Hinton, LL.B., Professor of Law.
Floyd Russell Mechem, A.M., LL.D., Professor of Law.
Frederic Campbell Woodward, A.M., LL.M., Professor of Law.

George Purcell Costigan, Jr., A.M., LL.B., LL.D., Professor of Law, Northwestern University (Summer, 1917).
Eldon Reybe James, S.B., LL.B., S.J.D., Professor of Law; Dean of Law School, University of Missouri (Summer, 1917).

The Summer Quarter.—The regular work of the Law School continues through four quarters yearly, the courses of the Summer, however, not extending into any other quarter. The Summer Quarter, 1917, opens June 18 and closes August 31, and is divided into two terms, the first of which ends July 25. Work may be taken for either term separately, subject to the rules about credit for courses that continue through both terms. See the statement under “Courses Offered,” below. The courses are substantially changed from summer to summer, and full work is provided for both advanced and beginning students. The former may continue their work during the summer, thus shortening the calendar time for the three-year course without reducing the period of actual residence; and beginning students may commence the study of law in the summer, to be continued either in the autumn or during the next summer. The courses to be given in successive summers are so arranged that either a first- or second-year student may take one, two, or three quarters in succession in the summer only. This plan offers particular advantages to school or college teachers intending to practice law who desire to complete part of their preparation for the bar before leaving their positions to enter a law school. The summer work also affords a special opportunity to students in other law schools who wish to do extra work for credit in their own schools, and to practitioners who desire systematically to pursue particular subjects.

Admission requirements —Only college graduates or students who have had college work equivalent to three years in the University of Chicago are admitted as candidates for the degree of Doctor of Law (J.D.), which is conferred upon college graduates only.
Students over twenty-one years old who have completed approved high-school or college work equivalent in amount to at least 15 units of admission credit to the University (the usual college-entrance requirements—ordinarily satisfied by four years of high-school work) are admitted as candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Laws (LL.B.), but must maintain an average standing in their law work 10 per cent above the passing mark.

In rare instances students over twenty-one years old who cannot meet the foregoing requirements will be admitted as unclassified students, if the Law Faculty is convinced that their previous training will enable them satisfactorily to pursue the work. Such students are not candidates for a degree.

Fees and expenses.—A matriculation fee of $5.00 is paid by every student entering the University for the first time. The tuition fee in the Law School is $50.00 per quarter ($25.00 per term) for full work. Half fees are charged for half work or less. Estimated expenses run from $135.00 to $225.00 for the quarter.

Routine of entrance.—Applications and correspondence should be addressed to JAMES P. HALL, Dean of the University of Chicago Law School, Chicago, Ill. A student from another institution should present his diploma or certificate of graduation; or, if he does not hold a degree equivalent to three years of college work in the University, he should bring a detailed statement of his work. Blank forms for such statements will be sent upon application. All credentials should be presented at the office of the Dean in the Law Building. In cases of doubt, correspondence is invited upon these matters before the student presents himself for admission. Directions for matriculation and registration will be furnished in the Dean’s office.

Detailed announcement.—The complete Announcements for the Summer Quarter of the University, showing the courses to be given in all the schools and departments, with detailed information about the quarter system, advanced standing, rooms, board, fees, expenses, University privileges, and other general matters, will be sent to anyone upon application to the Dean.

COURSES OFFERED: SUMMER QUARTER, 1917

Mj. = Major course, four hours weekly for the quarter. M. = Minor course, four hours weekly for one term. DM. = Double Minor course, eight hours weekly for one term. With the permission of the Dean courses continuing through both terms of the quarter may be taken for the First Term only, but no examination may be taken until the student later completes the course. When only the first half of a subject is given, credit is provisional until it is completed in a later quarter. Twelve to fourteen hours weekly constitute full work. By special permission a maximum of sixteen hours may be taken.
