I. HISTORY AND ORGANIZATION

A school of law and jurisprudence was contemplated in the original plan for the University of Chicago. The school should, according to William Rainey Harper, the first president of the University, be more than a training institution for admission to the bar. An education in law, President Harper said, "implies a scientific knowledge of law and of legal and juristic methods. These are the crystallization of ages of human progress. They cannot be understood in their entirety without a clear comprehension of the historic forces of which they are the product, and of the social environment with which they are in living contact. A scientific study of law involves the related sciences of history, economics, philosophy—the whole field of man as a social being." Consequently, the law school was not to be an institution which had a merely nominal connection with the University, and it was not to be separated either by location or spirit from the University at large. It should be an organic part of the University, in close touch with the other divisions, embodying the spirit and purpose of University life and, in turn, contributing to that life.

In 1902 President Harper's plan was approved by the Trustees, and the Law School was opened in October of that year. The goal of the School as stated in the first Announcements was "to afford adequate preparation for the practice of law as a profession in any jurisdiction in which the common law prevails, and to cultivate and encourage the scientific study of systematic and comparative jurisprudence, legal history, and principles of legislation."

The first Dean was Joseph Henry Beale. In 1904 Mr. Beale was succeeded by James Parker Hall, who continued as Dean until his death in 1928. In 1929
Harry A. Bigelow, a member of the Faculty since 1904, was appointed Dean and served in that capacity until his retirement in 1939. Since 1939, Wilber G. Katz has been the Dean of the School.

The University of Chicago Law School has been a member of the Association of American Law Schools since the School was founded in 1902. It has been on the approved list of the American Bar Association since the standards of that association were adopted in 1921.

II. GENERAL STATEMENT

The current program of the Law School was adopted nine years ago. It represents an attempt to integrate law with the social sciences. Economic and social data are introduced into the law courses and, in addition, separate courses are given in related disciplines. The objectives of the School are to give training to law students not only as future advocates and counselors, but also as future administrators, legislators, or judges, or as men who, though their careers may lie primarily in the field of business, will have important responsibilities for the operation of the legal order. The program also reflects the School's recognition of its responsibility to contribute to the solution of legal and social problems through research and effective criticism.

To achieve these general objectives, instruction in traditional legal materials has been recast, comprehensive examinations have been introduced, and courses have been reorganized to facilitate the introduction of relevant social data. To meet the serious problem of organizing social data for legal use, several economists have been added to the permanent staff, and some courses are conducted jointly by members of the law and economics faculties.

Intensive training in individual research and exposition is given to the student under a tutorial program throughout his first year in the Law School. In the advanced seminars, opportunities are given for further experience in research and for understanding in terms of concrete problems, the proper relationship of law and associated social disciplines. New emphasis has been given to theoretical contexts for the study of law by the addition of study of psychology, jurisprudence, moral and political philosophy, and economics.

The organization of the Law School reflects the recognition that if the School is to fulfill its responsibility to the profession and to society, it is under an obligation to engage in independent research and to take an active part in the correction of legal and social abuses. To this end a part of the faculty is employed on a full-time research basis, and to the same end increasing co-operation is planned with the bench, the bar, and other social agencies in drafting legislation, publishing reports, preparing briefs, and making constructive suggestions for the improvement of legal practice.

III. PROGRAMS FOR THE J.D. DEGREE

The school offers two programs of study leading to the degree of Doctor of Law (J.D.). For the present, instruction is given in each of four academic quarters.
THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO

THE FOUR-YEAR PROGRAM

The Four-Year Program is designed for students who hold Bachelors' degrees from the College of the University of Chicago. Holders of such degrees or of Bachelors' degrees from other approved colleges may apply for admission to this program without examination. Other applicants will usually be required to demonstrate the level of their achievement in general education by taking the University's General Education Test and must have completed at least two years of work in an approved college.

The J.D. degree is awarded to students in the Four-Year Program who have been in residence for twelve quarters carrying a full program and who have satisfactorily completed the work of the first year and at least twenty-seven additional course units.

THE THREE-YEAR PROGRAM

Application for admission to the Three-Year Program may be made by holders of traditional Bachelors' degrees from approved colleges. (For 1948 only, application may also be made by students who have completed three years or more of approved college study.)

The J.D. degree is awarded to students in the Three-Year Program who have been in residence for nine quarters carrying a full program and who have satisfactorily completed the work of the first year and at least eighteen additional course units.

ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS

To the extent possible in arranging programs of study, students must take all the work listed under Required Courses of Instruction for their respective programs.

In addition to satisfying the foregoing requirements, students must show an adequate mastery of English.

A full program for purposes of the residence requirement consists of at least eleven hours per week.

Grading is done on the following scale: A, 80–90; B, 74–79; C, 68–73; D, 60–67; failure, below 60. An average of 68 is required for continuance in the School at the end of three quarters, and the same average is required for graduation.

IV. GRADUATE PROGRAMS

THE MASTER OF LAWS PROGRAM

The Master of Laws Program is designed for graduates of approved law schools who wish to study the relations between law and other social sciences. It is open to graduates of law schools which are members of the Association of American Law Schools or approved by the American Bar Association and to graduates of foreign schools of comparable standing. The normal program includes Law and Economic Organization and three seminars or courses (or equivalent individual work) selected with the approval of the faculty committee on graduate study. The degree of Master of Laws (LL.M.) is awarded to students who have been in residence for three quarters and who have successfully completed the work of this program.
THE RESEARCH PROGRAM

The Research Program is designed for students who, in the opinion of the Faculty, are qualified to do independent research on advanced problems in law.

The degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence (J.S.D.) is awarded to research students who have been in residence at the School for at least three quarters, have pursued such studies as the Faculty has prescribed, and have submitted a dissertation which has been accepted by the Faculty as a creditable contribution to legal science.

V. SUGGESTIONS FOR PRE-LEGAL STUDY

The Law School does not require that applicants for admission present college credit in any specified subjects. A broad general education is thought more important for the student of law than specialized study in fields closely related to law.

Such a general education should include study of the social sciences, including economics and history; the humanities, especially philosophy and literature; and the elements of physical and biological sciences and mathematics. It is also of great importance that a law student should have acquired habits of precision, fluency, and economy in writing and speaking.

A list of books suggested for college students considering the study of law may be secured from the office of the Dean. College pre-legal advisers and other faculty members interested in legal education may also secure from this office a booklet, The Study and Practice of Law.

VI. ADMISSION OF STUDENTS

Applications for admission must be made upon a form obtained from the office of the Dean of the Law School. Official transcripts of all college records must be sent to the School. Enrolment of the School is limited. Students are selected principally on the basis of their college records and the material furnished in their applications for admission and an entrance examination and interview if required. The School does not require the College Entrance Board Law School Admission Test but suggests that this test be taken and invites the submission of the test report.

IX. EQUIPMENT

The Law School occupies a building situated on the Quadrangles of the University near Fifty-ninth Street and University Avenue. The cornerstone was laid on April 2, 1903, by President Theodore Roosevelt. Built of Bedford stone in the English Gothic style, its external appearance is suggestive of the Chapel of King's College, Cambridge. In the basement are seminar rooms, a clubroom, lockers, and library stackrooms. On the first floor are two large classrooms and a courtroom. The mezzanine floor is occupied by the library stackroom containing stacks for 100,000 volumes. Opening into the stackroom are the offices of the Faculty. On the third floor is the Law Library reading-room, a great hall one hundred and eighty feet long and fifty feet wide, with timbered roof and clerestory windows on all sides. It has wall shelves for 15,000 volumes and tables for 350 readers. A bridge affords a direct connection between the reading-rooms of the library of the Law School and the Harper Memorial Library.

On the walls of the building are hung the Charles B. Pike Collection of etchings and engravings of English and American judges and lawyers and also portraits of various members of the Faculty and benefactors of the School.

The Law Library, containing approximately 122,000 volumes, has substantially all the reported decisions of the courts of the United States and of England, Scotland, Ireland, Canada, Australia, and the other parts of the British Empire, together with the statutes and session laws, textbooks, periodicals, digests, encyclopedias, and sets of classified and annotated reports of these jurisdictions. The Library has an extensive collection of the original briefs and records of cases in the Supreme Court of the United States. It also has a representative collection of the reports and opinions of various state and federal administrative agencies and the proceedings of various bar associations. The Library has an important collection of materials dealing with Greek and Roman law and the law of Austria, Belgium, Denmark, France, Germany, Holland, Italy, Mexico, Spain, and Switzerland. In addition, the students of the School have ready access to the Harper Memorial Library, which contains approximately 1,750,000 volumes, and to the libraries of the Public Administration Clearing House and of the Rosenwald Museum of Science and Industry.

The Law Library has three special funds at its disposal to supplement general library appropriations. These are the James Nelson Raymond Memorial Fund, established in 1929 by Anna L. Raymond as a memorial to her husband, James Nelson Raymond, an eminent businessman of Chicago; the Wallace Heckman Memorial Fund, established in 1929 by Mrs. Wallace Heckman as a memorial to her husband, Wallace Heckman, business manager of the University from 1903 to 1924; and the William B. Hale Fund, established in 1944 by the family of Mr. Hale to further the study of monopoly.
X. PROFESSORSHIPS AND TEACHING FELLOWSHIPS

The John P. Wilson Professorship in Law was established in 1929 with funds contributed for the John P. Wilson Memorial Foundation by John P. Wilson, Jr., and Anna Wilson Dickinson as a memorial to their father, John P. Wilson, for many years an eminent member of the Chicago Bar.

The James Parker Hall Professorship in Law was established in 1930 by the alumni of the School in memory of James Parker Hall, dean of the School from 1904 until his death in 1928.

The Max Pam Professorship of Comparative Law was established in 1935 in memory of Max Pam, for many years an eminent member of the Chicago Bar, with funds allocated by the Trustees under the will of Mr. Pam.

The Harry A. Bigelow Teaching Fellowships were established in 1947 in honor of Harry A. Bigelow, John P. Wilson Professor Emeritus of Law and Dean Emeritus of the Law School.

XI. STUDENT AID

SCHOLARSHIPS

A number of scholarships are awarded to students of outstanding ability who need financial assistance. Some of these scholarships are for full tuition, some for half tuition, and some in amounts in excess of the tuition charge. In the case of veterans, scholarship awards may be made as cash grants to supplement government living allowances. Application for scholarships should be made upon a form obtained from the office of the Dean of the Law School (except in cases specified below).

The James Nelson Raymond Scholarships were established in 1930 from a fund given by Anna Louise Raymond in memory of her husband, James Nelson Raymond.

The Leo F. Wormser Scholarships were established in 1935 by friends of Leo F. Wormser, J.D. 1909, as a memorial to him. In 1940 an additional gift to this scholarship fund was made by Mrs. Leo F. Wormser in memory of Mr. Wormser's mother, Mrs. Frida Wormser.

Law School Alumni Scholarships are awarded from a fund contributed by alumni of the School. During 1948 contributions to this fund were made by members of the classes of 1907, 1908, 1909, 1912, 1913, 1917, 1918, 1922, 1923, 1927, 1932, 1933, 1937, 1938, and 1942.

University Scholarships are awarded from a fund annually allotted to the School by the Trustees of the University. These scholarships may be for either full or half tuition.

One of the James Nelson Raymond Scholarships and a number of University Scholarships for full tuition are usually awarded to entering students. Holders of these scholarships who make outstanding records in the Law School receive renewals of their scholarships or equivalent awards. In addition to these scholarships, approximately one-fourth of the University Scholarships for half tuition are usually awarded to entering students.
Applications for the following scholarships are to be made to the University Committee on Fellowships and Scholarships, Cobb Lecture Hall, Room 108, during the period from January 1 to April 1 for the year following.

Junior-College Entrance Scholarships. Entrance scholarships are awarded annually to graduates of junior colleges and to students with equivalent college standing, upon the academic record of the student, upon the recommendation of the faculty of the college which he has attended, and upon performance in an aptitude test given by the University.

The LaVerne Noyes Foundation Scholarships are awarded to veterans of World War I (1917-19) and their descendants. Further information may be secured from the Committee on Fellowships and Scholarships (Administration Building, 2d floor).

Marshall Field & Company Work-Scholarships. Not more than twenty full-tuition scholarships are available annually to students in the College, the Divisions, and the Professional Schools of the University who are employed by Marshall Field & Company under the study-employment plan. Remuneration for service is made in addition to the scholarship grant. Any student eighteen years of age or older is eligible to apply. Application may be made to the Committee on Scholarships.

LOANS

Several loan funds are available to law students. Loans are usually granted only to students who have completed at least one year of residence in the School.

The Ernst Freund Loan Fund was established in 1922 by the late Professor Ernst Freund and since his death has been augmented by other contributions.

The James Parker Hall Loan Fund was established by the alumni of the Law School in memory of the late Dean Hall.

The Floyd R. Mechem Loan Fund for Law Students was established in 1921 by the late Professor Floyd R. Mechem.

The Anna Louise Raymond Loan Fund was established by Anna Louise Raymond in 1932 for the benefit of students in the Law School, preference to be given to women students.

The Harry A. Bigelow Loan Fund was established in 1939 by the Law Class of 1929 in honor of Dean Bigelow.

The Julius Rosenthal Fund was established in 1903 in memory of Julius Rosenthal, by the late Judge Julian W. Mack, formerly a professor in the School.

The Clark B. Whittier Law Loan Fund was established by Professor Clark B. Whittier in recognition of his previous connection with the University of Chicago Law School as a member of its Faculty.

University Tuition Loan Funds. The University has established a loan fund from which loans may be made to students in need of financial assistance. The loans bear interest at 5 per cent, are for not over one year, but may on proper showing be extended.

A form of application for a loan may be obtained on request from the office of the Dean of the Law School.
OPPORTUNITIES FOR PART-TIME EMPLOYMENT

The facilities of the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement are available for students of the Law School who desire part-time employment. For detailed information concerning the opportunities for such employment, applications should be made to the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement (Administration Building, 3d floor).

XII. GRADUATE FELLOWSHIPS AND RESEARCH FUNDS

The Law School has available a number of fellowships for graduate students.

The James Nelson Raymond Fellowship was created in 1933 and 1934 by Anna Louise Raymond in memory of her husband, James Nelson Raymond. The annual income is awarded to a research student in law whose record gives evidence of a capacity for distinguished work in legal research.

University Fellowships. A limited number of fellowships are reserved for research students in law.

The Frieda and Arnold Shure Research Fund was established in 1945 by Frieda and Arnold Shure. The income is to be used for legal studies of importance for the public welfare.

XIII. STUDENT ACTIVITIES AND HONORS

The University of Chicago Law Review, founded in 1933, is published by the School under the management of a Board of Editors composed of students. Members of the second-year classes who rank highest in scholarship are invited to become competitors for election to the staff of the Review. From this group the Board of Editors chooses the editorial staff of the Review.

The Editors-in-Chief for 1947-48 were Charles D. Stein (1947), Bernard B. Weissbourd (1948), and Donald J. Yellon (1948). Editors included William S. Boylston, Harold P. Green, Lawrence Howe, Jr., Jerald E. Jackson, Harold A. Katz, William T. Martin, Jr., James J. McClure, Jr., Baxter K. Richardson, Jr., Milton I. Shadur, and George E. Wise. The Business Manager was James H. Evans, and the Associate Business Manager was Joseph E. Sheeks.

The Chicago Chapter of the Order of the Coif is an honor society founded to encourage scholarship and to advance the ethical standards of the legal profession. Its members are selected each spring from the 10 per cent of the graduating class who rank highest in scholarship. In 1948 the elected members were Zenia Sachs Goodman, James T. Lyon, A. Bruce Mercer, Edwin A. Wahlen, Bernard B. Weissbourd, and Donald J. Yellon.

Through the courtesy of the publishers, an award of a one-year subscription to the United States Law Week is made each year to the student who has made the most satisfactory scholastic progress during his final year. The recipient of the award in 1948 was Robert A. McCord.
XIV. FEES AND OTHER INFORMATION

FEES AND EXPENSES

1. Application fee. An application fee of $5.00 must accompany the original application for admission to the University. No part of the fee is refundable nor is it applicable as an advance payment on other fees.

2. Tuition fee. The tuition fee in the Law School is $185 a quarter. A student is required to pay full tuition unless a reduced program of work and a proportionate reduction of fees are approved by the Dean. The same fees apply to visitors.

3. Deposit on admission. An applicant who is accepted for admission into the Law School is required to make a deposit of $25 within two weeks after notice of acceptance has been sent. This deposit will be applied on the tuition fee and will be refunded only in the event that illness or other sufficient cause prevents an applicant from entering the School at the beginning of the quarter for which he has been accepted.

4. Payment of bills. Registration is not complete until the quarterly tuition fee is paid. Fees are payable at the Office of the Bursar, Administration Building, 1st floor. For failure to register within the officially scheduled registration period (for the dates each quarter see Calendar, Cover 2), a charge of $5.00 is made. For failure to pay the tuition fee within the officially scheduled registration period, a charge of $5.00 is made. However, if the registration is late, the penalty fee is not charged if the tuition is paid by the day following the registration.

REFUNDS

1. A student who is given permission to cancel his registration in whole or in part shall be granted either a refund in cash or a non-transferable, non-refundable credit of a portion of the original charge. Approval of the cancellation, with the date it becomes effective, must be certified by the appropriate Dean of Students.

2. The credit here referred to is usable for the payment of the student’s tuition fees within five years from the effective date of cancellation of the registration.

3. Exceptions:
   a) A student who cancels his registration in whole or in part during the first five days of the quarter shall be granted a full refund of his tuition for the courses dropped.
   b) A student who withdraws to enter military service shall be granted a full tuition refund for the quarter for such courses as he is unable to complete.
   c) A student who is required to withdraw for disciplinary reasons shall not be entitled to any refund of tuition fees.
   d) A student who is permitted to change courses by dropping one or more courses, and substituting therefor a like or greater number of courses, shall be allowed full tuition credit for the courses dropped, such credit to apply on the full tuition charges for the new program.

4. Such refund or credit as is approved shall be evidenced by a “change card,” which the student may obtain from the office of the appropriate Dean of Students. The student shall have the change card, duly approved, recorded by the Registrar, and shall present it to the Bursar within five days after its approval by the Dean.
LIVING ACCOMMODATIONS

The University has various residence halls, dormitories, and apartments on the Quadrangles which afford comfortable and convenient living quarters for Law School students. These are under the supervision of the Bursar of the University and detailed information concerning these accommodations may be obtained from the Office of the Bursar, Administration Building, 1st floor.

The Office of the Bursar also maintains a listing service of accommodations available in private houses and apartments in the neighborhood of the University. Since the renting of such accommodations by correspondence is unsatisfactory, the lists are not sent by mail.

International House, the gift to Chicago of Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is designed primarily as a residence for qualified foreign and American students in the Chicago area. To be eligible for residence a University of Chicago student must be carrying a full program in a Division or School. The building provides completely equipped living accommodations for 550 men and women. Information may be obtained from the Office of Admissions, International House, 1414 East Fifty-ninth Street, Chicago 37, Illinois.

PRIVILEGES

Students in the Law School are entitled to the privileges of the University upon the same terms as other students. These privileges include admission to courses in other departments of the University, attendance at University lectures, the use of the University Library, Reynolds Club and Ida Noyes Hall (the student clubhouses), the gymnasiums, the tennis courts, and the other facilities for physical education and for recreation, and the facilities of the University Health Service and the Office of Vocational Guidance and Placement.

UNIVERSITY HEALTH SERVICE

The University Health Service is concerned with all matters of the physical and mental health of the students of the University.

Entrance examination. A medical examination, appointment for which is made at the time of registration, is required of all students registering on the Quadrangles for the first time, with certain few exceptions which will be made known to the student at the time of registration. The examination is designed to protect the individual against work for which he is physically unqualified, to discover defects which may be corrected, and to guard the University community against communicable diseases. The entrance examination includes, in addition to the general physical examination: vision and hearing tests, chest microfilm, Wassermann blood test, urine examination, skin tests for evidence of tuberculosis, vaccination against smallpox, and, if requested by the examining physicians, blood count and hemoglobin determination.

Failure to report for the entrance medical examination within the first two weeks of the quarter or to keep an appointment already made necessitates payment of a late fee of $3.00. This fee should be paid at the cashier’s desk at Albert Merritt Billings Hospital and the receipt brought to the Health Service office.

Periodic examination. As part of the tuberculosis control program, all students are required to have each year a chest microfilm and skin tests for the detection of tuberculosis. Suspected cases are carefully followed. Likewise, students showing evidence of other chronic illnesses, physical deformities, or mental problems are given special attention.

Ambulatory and emergency medical care. The Student Health clinic provides both ambulatory and emergency medical and surgical care during the clinic hours and emergency treatment in the Billings hospital when the Health Service is not open. All laboratory facilities necessary for the diagnosis and treatment of disease are provided either in the clinic or through special laboratories in the hospitals. Referral to special clinics is made only at the discretion of the Student Health physician. Eye refractions are not included in the Health Service coverage but may be obtained in the Eye Clinic at a moderate fee to the student by appointment through the Health Service Clinic.

Hospitalization. Students requiring hospitalization are admitted to Billings Hospital and are cared for by the regular attending staffs of the respective services to which they are admitted. The University Health Service provides one week of hospitalization for any one illness and for the quarantine period of any communicable disease, use of the operating room for emergency operations, professional services during hospitalization, and any diagnostic procedures (X-rays, etc.) necessary for the care of the student. The hospital privileges do not include private rooms, special nurses, elective operations, or medicines.

In keeping with current medical trends, physicians of the division of Psychiatry are closely associated with the Student Health Service. Psychiatric facilities are available for the prevention and treatment of emotional and personality difficulties. The Student Health Service is primarily concerned with providing medical care of all kinds so that students may be prepared emotionally as well as physically to take full advantage of the manifold opportunities in the University.

Veterans are eligible for all medical care given by the University Health Service. Assistance is given veterans in arranging through the Veterans Administration for the costs of treatment of service-connected disabilities which are not covered by the Health Service program.

Room calls are made only in cases of emergency.

LIBERAL EDUCATION AT CHICAGO

Since 1930 the University of Chicago has been developing a collegiate program concerned only with liberal education. The College which administers that liberal education is a four-year unit which students may enter after two years of high school. Most students entering the College after completing the sophomore year of high school are able to meet the requirements for the Bachelor's degree by the age of eighteen. Entering classes are admitted in June and September, 1948.

An illustrated booklet, The College of the University of Chicago, may be obtained by writing to the Entrance Counselor, The University of Chicago, Chicago 37, Illinois.
