I. HISTORY AND ORGANIZATION

A school of law and jurisprudence was contemplated in the original plan for the University of Chicago. The school should, according to William Rainey Harper, the first president of the University, be more than a training institution for admission to the bar. An education in law, President Harper said, "implies a scientific knowledge of law and of legal and juristic methods. These are the crystallization of ages of human progress. They cannot be understood in their entirety without a clear comprehension of the historic forces of which they are the product, and of the social environment with which they are in living contact. A scientific study of law involves the related sciences of history, economics, philosophy—the whole field of man as a social being." Consequently, the law school was not to be an institution which had a merely nominal connection with the University, and it was not to be separated either by location or by spirit from the University at large. It should be an organic part of the University, in close touch with the other divisions, embodying the spirit and purpose of University life and, in turn, contributing to that life.

In 1902 President Harper's plan was approved by the Trustees, and the Law School was opened in October of that year. The goal of the School as stated in the first Announcements was "to afford adequate preparation for the practice of law as a profession in any jurisdiction in which the common law prevails, and to cultivate and encourage the scientific study of systematic and comparative jurisprudence, legal history, and principles of legislation."

The University of Chicago Law School has been a member of the Association of American Law Schools since the School was founded in 1902. It has been on the approved list of the American Bar Association since the standards of that association were adopted in 1921.

II. GENERAL STATEMENT

The curriculum of the Law School is designed to provide the essential training required for preparation for the practice of law, and for scholarly work in the science of law. Emphasis is placed on a knowledge of the history, principles, and purposes of legal institutions, the operation of these institutions in the modern world, and the development of skills of legal craftsmanship. The basic curriculum incorporates the traditional legal fields and disciplines essential to the work of the law. Where relevant and practicable, the data and theories of the social sciences are used to further the study of law. The usual, although not exclusive, form of instruction is the case method; emphasis is also placed on individual instruction through a legal writing and research program which is required of every student. Opportunity for specialization is provided in the second and third years of each student's program. The graduate program is planned to provide opportunity and guidance for research in the science of law. A special graduate program exists for foreign students whose undergraduate law training has not been primarily in the field of the Common Law and who desire to do research in comparative law.
III. ADMISSION OF STUDENTS

All applications for admission are subject to the approval of the faculty.

ADMISSION OF STUDENTS TO THE UNDERGRADUATE (J.D.) PROGRAM

Application for admission to the J.D. Program may be made by students who will have received a Bachelor's degree from an approved college prior to beginning their study in the Law School. It is not required that applicants for admission present college credit in any specified subjects. In exceptional cases students who will not have satisfied the requirements for a Bachelor's degree from an approved college prior to entering Law School, but who have had three years of college work, may be admitted to the J.D. Program.

Students are selected principally upon the basis of their college records, the material furnished in their applications for admission, and the results shown on the Law School Admission Test. In special cases a personal interview with the applicant may be required. Preliminary questions concerning admission to the Law School and requests for copies of the application form should be addressed to the Dean of Students, Law School, The University of Chicago, Chicago 37. Completed applications, official transcripts of all college and university records, and letters of recommendation should be sent directly to the Law School.

Arrangements should be made by applicants to take the Law School Admission Test administered by the Educational Testing Service, Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey. The results on this test should be reported directly to the Dean of Students, Law School, The University of Chicago, Chicago 37. The Law School Admission Test will be given at selected locations throughout the country on November 14, 1953; February 20, April 10, and August 7, 1954.

Graduates of an approved law school whose studies have been primarily in the Common Law may apply for admission to the third year of the undergraduate school as candidates for the J.D. degree.

Graduates of an approved foreign law school, whose studies have not been primarily in the Common Law, may apply for admission as candidates for the J.D. degree in regular course. The requirements for this degree may be met in part for such students by the recognition of credits not to exceed 45 course hours (11 ¾ units) if performance in residence demonstrates the effective value of the student's work in a foreign system.

ADMISSION OF STUDENTS TO THE GRADUATE (LL.M.) (J.S.D.) PROGRAM

Application for admission to the graduate (LL.M.) (J.S.D.) program is limited to students who are the holders of a first degree in law from an approved law school, whose undergraduate work has been primarily in the Common Law, and who are qualified for advanced research in law. The degree of Master of Laws (LL.M.) is awarded only to students who have been admitted to candidacy for the degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence (J.S.D.).

Application for admission must be made upon a form obtained from the Dean of Students, Law School, The University of Chicago, Chicago, 37. The completed form should be submitted directly to the Law School.
ADMISSION OF STUDENTS TO THE CERTIFICATE PROGRAM

Graduates of an approved foreign law school, whose studies have not been primarily in the Common Law, may apply for admission to the program designed to give a one-year introduction to Anglo-American law. Upon completion of this program, such students will be given a certificate of attendance and a certificate for courses successfully completed.

ADMISSION OF STUDENTS TO THE GRADUATE COMPARATIVE LAW PROGRAM

Application for admission to the graduate (M.Comp.L.) (D.Comp.L.) comparative law program is limited to students who are graduates of an approved foreign law school and whose previous training, though not in the Common Law, qualifies them to undertake advanced research in law. The degree of Master of Comparative Law (M.Comp.L.) is awarded only to students who have been admitted to candidacy for the degree of Doctor of Comparative Law (D.Comp.L.).

Application for admission to the Graduate Comparative Law Program must be made upon a form obtained from the Dean of Students, Law School, The University of Chicago, Chicago 37.

IV. REQUIREMENTS FOR DEGREES

The degree of Doctor of Law (J.D.) is awarded to students who (1) have been in residence for nine full quarters; (2) have shown by their standing in course examinations and by their individual investigations and reports a mastery of the fields for which they receive the requisite units of credit; (3) have shown an adequate mastery of English; and (4) have successfully completed the work in the elective seminars or equivalent individual work approved by the Faculty. A single course unit is the equivalent of four hours per week for one quarter. To qualify for residence credit for a quarter, the student must take 12 or more course hours (3 course units). Credit for 135 course hours (33\(\frac{1}{2}\) course units), and an over-all grade average of 68 or above are required for graduation. The degree of Doctor of Law, cum laude, is awarded to candidates who have satisfied the requirements with distinction. Graduates of an approved law school admitted as candidates for the J.D. degree must be in residence for three full quarters and have received credit for 44 course hours (11 course units) with an over-all grade average of 68 or above.

The degree of Master of Laws (LL.M.) is awarded to students who have completed with distinction the residence work required for the degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence, and, after submission and approval of a detailed outline and partial draft of a dissertation, have been admitted to candidacy for the degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence.

The degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence (J.S.D.) is awarded to students who have been in residence for three full consecutive quarters, have completed their studies with distinction, and, after admission to candidacy for the degree, have submitted a dissertation which is accepted by the faculty as a creditable contribution to legal science. Residence credit for a quarter requires 12 or more course hours (3 course units). The program is individually arranged with the student's faculty adviser and is expected to occupy the student's full time. Participation in the work of the General Graduate Seminar (489) is required. The work may include any seminar or course open to undergraduates with such supplementary work as may be required. It may consist of independent study of research as may be individually arranged. If the work in residence is completed with distinction, and a detailed outline and partial draft of the dissertation are submitted and approved, the student will be admitted as a candidate for the doctorate. Thereafter the candidate's thesis must be submitted to the faculty for its approval within a reasonable period of time as set by the candidate's thesis committee.

A certificate of attendance or a certificate for courses successfully completed will be given to graduates of foreign law schools who have been admitted to the Certificate Program, have been in residence for three full quarters, and have participated in the seminar in Problems of American Law for Foreign Students (488).

The degree of Master of Comparative Law (M.Comp.L.) is awarded to students who have completed with distinction the residence work required for the degree of Doctor of Comparative Law (D.Comp.L.).

The degree of Doctor of Comparative Law (D.Comp.L.) is awarded to students who have been in residence for three full consecutive quarters, have completed their studies with distinction, and after admission to candidacy for the degree have submitted a dissertation which is accepted by the faculty as a creditable contribution to the literature of comparative law. Residence credit for a quarter requires 12 or more course hours (3 course units). The program is individually arranged with the student's faculty adviser and is expected to occupy the student's full time. At least half of the student's work in residence must be devoted to some phases of Anglo-American law. Participation in the General Graduate Seminar (489) and the seminar on Problems of American Law for Foreign Students (488) is required. If the work in residence is completed with distinction, and a detailed outline and partial draft of the dissertation are submitted and approved, the student will be admitted as a candidate for the doctorate. Thereafter the candidate's thesis must be submitted to the faculty for its approval within a reasonable period of time as set by the candidate's thesis committee.

V. EXAMINATIONS, GRADING, AND RULES

Normally a written examination is required at the completion of each course. For each course the work of each student is graded according to the following scale: A, 80 and above; B, 74–79; C, 68–73; D, 60–67; F, below 60. These grades are recorded as numerical grades in the Office of the Law School and as letter grades in the Office of the Registrar of the University. A minimum grade of 60 is required before course credit may be received. At the end of the third and sixth quarters, the student, in order to remain in the School, must have an over-all average of 68. In computing averages, all grades will be counted on a weighted course-hour basis.

Regular class attendance is required as a condition of receiving credit for work done. The privilege of membership in the School may be withdrawn for unsatisfactory classwork or attendance.
VI. COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

The program of each student is subject to the approval of the Dean. Normally all work for the first three quarters is required. A legal writing, research, and moot court program is also required of every student. Students are permitted to specialize in the second and third years. Members of the Faculty may prescribe special qualifications for admission to particular courses or seminars.

Unless special permission is granted, the student must take all courses listed below for the first-year program. The numbers in parentheses at the end of each course description represent the value of the course in terms of course hours per quarter.

In order to achieve credit for 135 course hours in nine quarters, the student must take an average of 15 course hours (3\frac{1}{2} course units) per quarter. Unless special permission is granted, no student may take more than 17 course hours in any quarter.

XIV. STUDENT ACTIVITIES AND HONORS

The University of Chicago Law Review, founded in 1933, is published by the School under the management of a Board of Editors composed of students. Members of the second-year class who rank highest in scholarship are invited to become competitors for election to the staff of the Review. From this group the Board of Editors chooses the editorial staff. The Editor-in-Chief from June, 1952, through December, 1952, was Alexander Polikoff. The Managing Editors were Dale W. Broeder, Marvin A. Chirelstein, Merrill Freed. The Associate Editors were Jean Allard, Robert H. Bork, Howard A. MacLeod, Laurence Reich, Richard Stillerman. From December, 1952, through March, 1953, the Editors-in-Chief were Marvin Chirelstein and Merrill Freed. The Managing Editors were Jean Allard and Robert H. Bork. The Associate Editors were Leon Gabinet, Laurence Reich, Theodore Rosenak, Alan Rosenblat, and Richard Stillerman. For the Spring Quarter, 1953, the Editor-in-Chief was Merrill Freed. The Managing Editors were Jean Allard, Robert H. Bork. The Associate Editors were David Brenner, Leon Gabinet, Laurence Reich, Theodore Rosenak, Alan Rosenblat, Hal M. Smith, and Richard Stillerman.

The Chicago Chapter of the Order of the Coif is an honor society founded to encourage scholarship and to advance the ethical standards of the legal profession. Its members are elected each spring from the ten per cent of the graduating class who rank highest in scholarship. In 1953 the elected members were Robert H. Bork, Dale W. Broeder, Allen D. Choka, Merrill Freed, and Alexander Polikoff.

The University of Chicago Law School Student Association is composed of the entire law student body and is affiliated with the American Law Student Association, a national organization sponsored by the Junior Bar Conference and the American Bar Association. The organization sponsors various legal and social student functions throughout the year.
Officers are elected from each of the three classes. The officers for 1952–53 were: President, Hugh Brodkey; Vice-President-Treasurer, Jason Bellows; Secretary, Bernard Nussbaum. Committee chairmen: Moot Court, Renato Beghé, George Beall, David Ladd; Skits, Leon Gabinet, Dave Brenner.

The Joseph Henry Beal, Jr., Prize, named in honor of the first Dean of the Law School, is awarded to the first-year law student whose work in the first-year tutorial program is judged by the Faculty to be most worthy of special recognition.

The Walter Wheeler Cook Prize, named in honor of a distinguished member of the Law Faculty from 1910 to 1916, is awarded to the student who has written the best essay pursuant to the work of the second- and third-year seminars.

XV. PLACEMENT

The Law School has a placement office to help students find suitable employment after their graduation. In collaboration with the Law School Alumni Association, special placement groups in large cities, and the University’s general placement office it secures information about openings in law offices, corporations, and government offices throughout the country, and furnishes information about University of Chicago Law School graduates.

Early in their third year, students submit placement data indicating their plans and preferences after graduation. It is important that these records, which facilitate appropriate recommendations, be filled out accurately and be kept current. Accordingly, students whose plans or preferences change during the third year are asked to indicate such changes to the placement office. All third-year students have a personal interview concerning placement with Dean Ratcliffe, who is Director of Placement. Members of the faculty are also available for consultation and advice.

XVI. BUILDING AND LIBRARY

The Law School occupies a building situated on the Quadrangles of the University near Fifty-ninth Street and University Avenue. The cornerstone was laid on April 2, 1903, by President Theodore Roosevelt. Built of Bedford stone in the English Gothic style, its external appearance is suggestive of the Chapel of King’s College, Cambridge. In the basement are seminar rooms, a clubroom, lockers, women’s lounge, and library stackrooms. On the first floor are two large classrooms, a courtroom, the office of the Law School, the office of the Dean, and the office of the Dean of Students. The mezzanine floor is occupied by the main library stackroom. Opening into the stackroom are the offices of the Faculty. On the third floor is the Law Library reading-room, a great hall one hundred and eighty feet long and fifty feet wide, with timbered roof and clerestory windows on all sides. A bridge affords a direct connection between the reading-room of the library of the Law School and the Harper Memorial Library.

On the walls of the building are hung the Charles B. Pike Collection of etchings and engravings of English and American judges and lawyers and also portraits of various members of the Faculty and benefactors of the School.

The Law Library has substantially all the reported decisions of the courts of the United States and of England, Scotland, Ireland, Canada, Australia, and the other parts of the British Commonwealth, together with the statutes and session laws, textbooks, periodicals, digests, encyclopedias, and sets of classified and annotated reports of these jurisdictions. The Library has as well an extensive collection of the original briefs and records of cases in the Supreme Court of the United States. It also has a representative collection of the reports and opinions of various state and federal administrative agencies and the proceedings of various bar associations. The Library has an important collection of materials dealing with Greek and Roman law and the law of Austria, Belgium, Denmark, France, Germany, The Netherlands, Italy, Mexico, Spain, and Switzerland. In addition, the students of the School have ready access to the Harper Memorial Library and to the libraries of the Public Administration Clearing House and of the Rosenwald Museum of Science and Industry.

To supplement general library appropriations, the Law Library has four special funds at its disposal. These are the James Nelson Raymond Memorial Fund, established in 1929 by Anna L. Raymond as a memorial to her husband, James Nelson Raymond, an eminent businessman of Chicago; the Wallace Heckman Memorial Fund, established in 1929 by Mrs. Wallace Heckman as a memorial to her husband, Wallace Heckman, business manger of the University from 1903 to 1924; the William B. Hale Fund, established in 1944 by the family of Mr. Hale to further the study of monopoly; and the Francis S. Kosmerl Law Library Fund, established in 1948 by a bequest under the will of Mr. Kosmerl, J.D.

XVII. MARY BEECHER HALL, THE LAW SCHOOL RESIDENCE

Mary Beecher Hall is the Law School Men's Residence. Located on University Avenue between Fifty-eighth and Fifty-ninth streets, it forms part of a quadrangle with the Law School Building. There are commons and lounge facilities as well as living quarters for a limited number of law students, and the Hall also provides a meeting place for law students and a center for extracurricular activities of the Law School.

The John B. Phillips Memorial Library, established by the classmates of John B. Phillips, J.D. 1941, who was killed in action at Tarawa, is housed in Beecher Hall as an open shelf collection of general cultural books pertaining to the law.

Applications for residence in Beecher Hall should be addressed to the Housing Bureau,
The University of Chicago, 5801 Ellis Avenue, Chicago 37. Arrangements may be made by law students not rooming in the Hall to take regularly lunch or dinner, or both, in the Beecher Hall dining-room.

XVIII. SUGGESTIONS FOR PRE-LEGAL STUDY

The Law School does not require that applicants for admission present college credit in any specified subjects. A broad general education is thought more important for the student of law than specialized study in fields closely related to law.

Such a general education should include study of the social sciences, including eco-economics and history; the humanities, especially philosophy and literature; and the elements of physical and biological sciences and mathematics. It is also of great importance that a law student should have acquired habits of precision, fluency, and economy in writing and speaking.

A list of books suggested for college students considering the study of law may be secured from the office of the Dean. A booklet by members of the Faculty on The Study and Practice of Law may be ordered for fifty cents from the University of Chicago Bookstore, Fifty-eighth Street and Ellis Avenue, Chicago 37. On the request addressed to the Dean's Office, copies will be sent to college pre-legal advisers and other faculty members interested in legal education.

XIX. FEES AND OTHER INFORMATION

Application fee. An application fee of $5.00 must accompany the original application for admission to the University. No part of the fee is refundable nor is it applicable as an advance payment on other fees.

Tuition fee. The tuition fee in the Law School is $246 a quarter. A student is required to pay full tuition unless a reduced program of work and a reduction of fees are approved by the Dean. The same fees apply to visitors.

Residence hall fees. Single rooms, together with meals, are available in Mary Beecher Hall at a cost of $810 for the nine-month academic year. There are a few double rooms at a rate of $780 per person for the same period.

Deposit on admission. An applicant who is accepted for admission into the Law School is required to make a deposit of $35 within four weeks after notice of acceptance has been sent. This deposit will be applied on the tuition fee and will be refunded only in the event that illness or other sufficient cause prevents an applicant from entering the School at the beginning of the quarter for which he has been accepted.

For further information concerning payment of bills, refunds, estimated expenses, living accommodations, University Health Service, and other matters of interest to the students, see the University Announcements: A General Statement.
