I. LOCATION, HISTORY, AND ORGANIZATION

The University of Chicago is located on the South Side of Chicago, eight miles from the center of the city. Its grounds lie on both sides of the Midway Plaisance between Washington and Jackson parks; its plant includes nearly a hundred buildings. The Law School Building is situated on the Quadangles near Fifty-ninth Street and University Avenue. The Law School Building is connected directly with Harper Memorial Library and the Social Science Building. Beecher Hall, the Law School Residence, is located on University Avenue opposite the Law School Building. The American Bar Center, national headquarters for administration and research of the American Bar Association, is located on the south side of the Midway Plaisance, as is the Public Administration Clearing House.

The University of Chicago was incorporated in 1890, the product of the interest of the Baptist denomination in establishing a strong and well-equipped college at Chicago to serve the West. The University of Chicago includes: (1) The College. (2) The four Divisions—Biological Sciences, Humanities, Physical Sciences, Social Sciences. (3) The six Professional Schools—School of Business, Divinity School, Law School, Graduate Library School, School of Medicine, School of Social Service Administration. (4) University College, which includes the center for adult education, located in downtown Chicago, and the Home-Study Department. (5) The Libraries, Laboratories, Museums, Clinics, and Institutes. (6) The University Press.

A school of law and jurisprudence was contemplated in the original plan for the University of Chicago. The school, according to William Rainey Harper, the first president of the University, should be more than a training institution for admission to the bar. An education in law, President Harper said, “implies a scientific knowledge of law and of legal and juristic methods. These are the crystallization of ages of human progress. They cannot be understood in their entirety without a clear comprehension of the historic forces of which they are the product, and of the social environment with which they are in living contact. A scientific study of law involves the related sciences of history, economics, philosophy—the whole field of man as a social being.” Consequently, the law school was not to be an institution which had a merely nominal connection with the University, and it was not to be separated either by location or by spirit from the University at large. It should be an organic part of the University, in close touch with the other divisions, embodying the spirit and purpose of University life and, in turn, contributing to that life.

In 1902 President Harper’s plan was approved by the Trustees, and the Law School was opened in October of that year. The goal of the School as stated in the first Announcements was “to afford adequate preparation for the practice of law as a profession in any jurisdiction in which the common law prevails, and to cultivate and encourage the scientific study of systematic and comparative jurisprudence, legal history, and principles of legislation.”

The University of Chicago Law School has been a member of the Association of American Law Schools since the School was founded in 1902. It has been on the approved list of the American Bar Association since the standards of that association were adopted in 1921.

II. GENERAL STATEMENT

The curriculum of the Law School is designed to provide the essential training required for preparation for the practice of law, and for scholarly work in law. Emphasis is placed on a knowledge of the history, principles, and purposes of legal institutions, the operation of these institutions in the modern world, and the development of skills of legal craftsmanship. The basic curriculum incorporates the traditional legal fields and disciplines essential to the work of the law. Where relevant and practicable, the data and theories of the social sciences are used to further the study of law. The usual, although not exclusive, form of instruction is the case method; emphasis is also placed on individual instruction through a legal writing and research program which is required of every student. Opportunity for specialization is provided in the second and third years of each student's program. The graduate program is planned to provide opportunity and guidance for research in law. A special graduate program exists for foreign students whose undergraduate law training has not been primarily in the field of the Common Law and who desire to do research in comparative law. The research program of the School is intended to further the knowledge of legal institutions, to enrich the instructional program of the School, and to contribute to the administration of justice.

III. ADMISSION OF STUDENTS

All applications for admission are subject to the approval of the faculty.

ADMISSION OF STUDENTS TO THE UNDERGRADUATE (J.D.) PROGRAM

Application for admission to the J.D. Program may be made by students who will have received a Bachelor's degree from an approved college prior to beginning their study in the Law School. It is not required that applicants for admission present college credit in any specified subjects. In exceptional cases students who will not have satisfied the requirements for a Bachelor's degree from an approved college prior to entering the Law School, but who have had three years of college work, may be admitted to the J.D. Program. Students in the College of the University of Chicago may be admitted after having secured a certificate of completion of General Studies.

Students are selected principally upon the basis of their college records, the material furnished in their applications for admission, and the results shown on the Law School Admission Test. In special cases a personal interview with the applicant may be required. Preliminary questions concerning admission to the Law School and requests for copies of the application form should be addressed to the Dean of Students, Law School, The University of Chicago, Chicago 37. Completed applications, official transcripts of all college and university records, and letters of recommendation should be sent directly to the Law School.

Arrangements should be made by applicants to take the Law School Admission Test administered by the Educational Testing Service, 20 Nassau St., Princeton, New Jersey. The results of this test should be reported directly to the Dean of Students, Law School, The University of Chicago, Chicago 37. The Law School Admission Test will be given at selected locations throughout the country on November 13, 1954; February 19, April 23, and August 6, 1955.

Graduates of an approved law school whose studies have been primarily in the Common Law may apply for admission to the third year of the undergraduate school as candidates for the J.D. degree.

Graduates of an approved foreign law school, whose studies have not been primarily in the Common Law, may apply for admission as candidates for the J.D. degree in regular course. The requirements for this degree may be met in part for such students by the recognition of credits not to exceed 45 course hours (11 Ê units) if performance in residence demonstrates the effective value of the student's work in a foreign system.
ADMISSION OF STUDENTS TO THE GRADUATE (LL.M.) (J.S.D.) PROGRAM

Application for admission to the graduate (LL.M.) (J.S.D.) program is limited to students who are the holders of a first degree in law from an approved law school, whose undergraduate work has been primarily in the Common Law, and who are qualified for advanced research in law. The degree of Master of Laws (LL.M.) is awarded only to students who have been admitted to candidacy for the degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence (J.S.D.).

Application for admission must be made upon a form obtained from the Dean of Students, Law School, The University of Chicago, Chicago 37. The completed form should be submitted directly to the Law School.

ADMISSION OF STUDENTS TO THE CERTIFICATE PROGRAM

Graduates of an approved foreign law school, whose studies have not been primarily in the Common Law, may apply for admission to the program designed to give a one-year introduction to Anglo-American law. Upon completion of this program, such students will be given a certificate of attendance and a certificate for courses successfully completed.

ADMISSION OF STUDENTS TO THE GRADUATE COMPARATIVE LAW PROGRAM

Application for admission to the graduate (M.Comp.L.) (D.Comp.L.) comparative law program is limited to students who are graduates of an approved foreign law school and whose previous training, though not in the Common Law, qualifies them to undertake advanced research in law. The degree of Master of Comparative Law (M.Comp.L.) is awarded only to students who have been admitted to candidacy for the degree of Doctor of Comparative Law (D.Comp.L.).

Application for admission to the Graduate Comparative Law Program must be made upon a form obtained from the Dean of Students, Law School, The University of Chicago, Chicago 37.

IV. REQUIREMENTS FOR DEGREES

The degree of Doctor of Law (J.D.) is awarded to students who (1) have been in residence for nine full quarters; (2) have shown by their standing in course examinations and by their individual investigations and reports a mastery of the fields for which they receive the requisite units of credit; (3) have shown an adequate mastery of English; and (4) have successfully completed the work in the elective seminars or equivalent individual work approved by the faculty. A single course unit is the equivalent of four hours per week for one quarter. To qualify for residence credit for a quarter, the student must take 12 or more course hours (3 course units). Credit for 135 course hours (33 1/3 course units) and an over-all grade average of 68 or above are required for graduation. The degree of Doctor of Law, cum laude, is awarded to candidates who have satisfied the requirements with distinction. Graduates of an approved law school admitted as candidates for the J.D. degree must be in residence for three full quarters and have received credit for 44 course hours (11 course units) with an over-all grade average of 68 or above.

The degree of Master of Laws (LL.M.) is awarded to students who have completed with distinction the residence work required for the degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence, and, after submission and approval of a detailed outline and partial draft of a dissertation, have been admitted to candidacy for the degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence.
The degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence (J.S.D.) is awarded to students who have been in residence for three full consecutive quarters, have completed their studies with distinction, and, after admission to candidacy for the degree, have submitted a dissertation which is accepted by the faculty as a creditable contribution to legal science. Residence credit for a quarter requires 12 or more course hours (3 course units). The program is individually arranged with the student's faculty adviser and is expected to occupy the student's full time. Participation in the work of the General Graduate Seminar (489) is required. The work may include any seminar or course open to undergraduates with such supplementary work as may be required. It may consist of independent study of research as may be individually arranged. If the work in residence is completed with distinction, and a detailed outline and partial draft of the dissertation are submitted and approved, the student will be admitted as a candidate for the doctorate. Thereafter the candidate's thesis must be submitted to the faculty for its approval within a reasonable period of time as set by the candidate's thesis committee.

A certificate of attendance or a certificate for courses successfully completed will be given to graduates of foreign law schools who have been admitted to the Certificate Program, have been in residence for three full quarters, and have participated in the seminar in Problems of American Law for Foreign Students (488).

The degree of Master of Comparative Law (M.Comp.L.) is awarded to students who have completed with distinction the residence work required for the degree of Doctor of Comparative Law (D.Comp.L.).

The degree of Doctor of Comparative Law (D.Comp.L.) is awarded to students who have been in residence for three full consecutive quarters, have completed their studies with distinction, and after admission to candidacy for the degree have submitted a dissertation which is accepted by the faculty as a creditable contribution to the literature of comparative law. Residence credit for a quarter requires 12 or more course hours (3 course units). The program is individually arranged with the student's faculty adviser and is expected to occupy the student's full time. At least half of the student's work in residence must be devoted to some phases of Anglo-American law. Participation in the General Graduate Seminar (489) and the seminar on Problems of American Law for Foreign Students (488) is required. If the work in residence is completed with distinction, and a detailed outline and partial draft of the dissertation are submitted and approved, the student will be admitted as a candidate for the doctorate. Thereafter the candidate's thesis must be submitted to the faculty for its approval within a reasonable period of time as set by the candidate's thesis committee.

V. EXAMINATIONS, GRADING, AND RULES

Normally a written examination is required at the completion of each course. For each course the work of each student is graded according to the following scale: A, 80 and above; B, 74–79; C, 68–73; D, 60–67; F, below 60. These grades are recorded as numerical grades in the Office of the Law School and as letter grades in the Office of the Registrar of the University. A minimum grade of 60 is required before course credit may be received. At the end of the third and sixth quarters, and of succeeding quarters, the student, in order to remain in the School, must have an over-all average of 68. In computing averages, all grades will be counted on a weighted course-hour basis.

Regular class attendance is required as a condition of receiving credit for work done. The privilege of membership in the School may be withdrawn for unsatisfactory classwork or attendance.
VI. COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

The program of each student is subject to the approval of the Dean. Normally all work for the first three quarters is required. A legal writing, research, and moot court program is also required of every student. Students are permitted to specialize in the second and third years. Members of the faculty may prescribe special qualifications for admission to particular courses or seminars.

Unless special permission is granted, the student must take all courses listed below for the first-year program. The numbers in parenthesis at the end of each course description represent the value of the course in terms of course hours per quarter.

In order to achieve credit for 135 course hours in nine quarters, the student must take an average of 15 course hours (31 course units) per quarter. Unless special permission is granted, no student may take more than 17 course hours in any quarter.

The Chicago Chapter of the Order of the Coif is an honor society founded to encourage scholarship and to advance the ethical standards of the legal profession. Its members are elected each spring from the ten per cent of the graduating class who rank highest in scholarship. In 1954 the elected members were Harlan Morse Blake, Alan Reid Brodie, Robert Emmet Nagle, Jr., Theodore William Rosenak, Hal Muir Smith, Judith Weinshall Liberman.

The University of Chicago Law School Student Association is composed of the entire law student body and is affiliated with the American Law Student Association, a national organization sponsored by the Junior Bar Conference and the American Bar Association. The organization sponsors various legal and social student functions throughout the year. Officers are elected from each of the three classes. The officers for 1953-54 were: President, Lee Vickman; Treasurer, Alan Ward; Secretary, Alice Wirth; third-year representatives, Hugh Brodkey, Gregory Beggs, David Brenner, Eva Content; second-year representatives, Harold Ward, Vincent Diana, Bernard J. Nussbaum, Robert Murdock; first-year representatives, Ward Wright, Bruce Kaufman.

The Joseph Henry Beal, Jr., Prize, named in honor of the first Dean of the Law School, is awarded to the first-year law student whose work in the first-year tutorial program is judged by the Faculty to be most worthy of special recognition. The prize for 1953-54 was awarded to Preble Stolz.

The Walter Wheeler Cook Prize, named in honor of a distinguished member of the Law Faculty from 1910 to 1916, is awarded to the student who has written the best essay pursuant to the work of the second- and third-year seminars.

XVII. PLACEMENT

The Law School has a placement office to help students find suitable employment after their graduation. In collaboration with the Law School Alumni Association, special placement groups in large cities, and the University's general placement office it secures information about openings in law offices, corporations, and government offices throughout the country, and furnishes information about University of Chicago Law School graduates.

Early in their third year, students submit placement data indicating their plans and preferences after graduation. It is important that these records, which facilitate appropriate recommendations, be filled out accurately and be kept current. Accordingly, students whose plans or preferences change during the third year are asked to indicate such changes to the placement office. All third-year students have a personal interview concerning placement with Dean Ratcliffe, who is Director of Placement. Members of the faculty are also available for consultation and advice.

XVIII. BUILDING AND LIBRARY

The Law School occupies a building situated on the Quadrangles of the University near Fifty-ninth Street and University Avenue. The cornerstone was laid on April 2, 1903, by President Theodore Roosevelt. Built of Bedford stone in the English Gothic style, its external appearance is suggestive of the Chapel of King's College, Cambridge. On the walls of the building are hung the Charles B. Pike Collection of etchings and engravings of English and American judges and lawyers and also portraits of various members of the faculty and benefactors of the School. In the basement are seminar rooms, tutorial and law review offices, a clubroom, lockers, women's lounge, and library stack-rooms housing the foreign law collection and the briefs and records of cases in the Supreme Court of the United States. On the first floor are two large classrooms, a courtroom, the Law School Office, and the offices of the Dean and two assistant deans. On the mezzanine floor are the offices of the faculty and the stacks housing the bulk of the Law Library collection. On the third floor is the Law Library reading-room, a great hall one hundred and eighty feet long and fifty feet wide, with timbered roof and clerestory windows on all sides. Around its walls is an open-shelf collection, almost one-sixth of the Law Library's 135,000 volumes, comprising duplicate sets of United States Supreme Court Reports, National Reporter System, reports of all state courts of highest resort and principal English Court Reports, together with citators, digests, encyclopedias, indexes, and annotated reports. A bridge affords a direct connection between the Law Library reading-room and the Harper Memorial Library, which houses approximately half of the University Library's two million volumes. Immediately across the bridge is the Periodical and Document Room, which houses recent and current issues of approximately 2,800 periodicals, principally in the social sciences and business, and the Social Science Reading-Room, which has an open-shelf reference collection of approximately five thousand volumes. In addition to the foregoing, law students have ready access to the other departmental libraries of the University and to the library of the near-by Public Administration Clearing House.

The Law Library collection covers substantially all fields and systems of law. The Anglo-American Law section contains an almost complete collection of the statutes, session laws, and reported decisions of the courts of each jurisdiction, together with digests, encyclopedias, periodicals, and the principal treatises. It includes also an extensive collection of the original briefs and records of cases in the Supreme Court of the United States and a representative collection of the reports and opinions of the federal and state administrative agencies and of the proceedings of the various bar associations. The Foreign Law section contains basic source and secondary materials relating to early legal systems and the law of continental European and Scandinavian countries, including the latest codes and current periodicals. There are also special sections on legal history, including biography, jurisprudence, comparative law, canon law, and international law.

The Law Library has two special funds at its disposal to supplement general library appropriations. These are the James Nelson Raymond Memorial Fund, established in 1929 by Anna L. Raymond as a memorial to her husband, James Nelson Raymond, an eminent businessman of Chicago; and the Wallace Heckman Memorial Fund, established in 1929 by Mrs. Wallace Heckman as a memorial to her husband, Wallace Heckman, business manager of the University from 1903 to 1924.

XIX. MARY BEECHER HALL, THE LAW SCHOOL RESIDENCE

Mary Beecher Hall is the Law School Men's Residence. Located on University Avenue between Fifty-eighth and Fifty-ninth streets, it forms part of a quadrangle with the Law School Building. There are commons and lounge facilities as well as living quarters for a limited number of law students, and the Hall also provides a meeting place for law students and a center for extracurricular activities of the Law School.

The John B. Phillips Memorial Library, established by the classmates of John B. Phillips, J.D. 1941, who was killed in action at Tarawa, is housed in Beecher Hall as an open-shelf collection of general cultural books pertaining to the law.

Applications for residence in Beecher Hall, or inquiries concerning other housing accommodations, should be addressed to the Housing Bureau, The University of Chicago, 5801 Ellis Avenue, Chicago 37. Arrangements may be made by law students not rooming in the Hall to take regularly lunch or dinner, or both, in the Beecher Hall dining-room.
XX. INTERNATIONAL HOUSE

International House, with accommodations for over five hundred residents (men and women), is a gift of Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and is designed primarily to provide living quarters for qualified students from abroad and for American students. Full-time graduate students and upperclass undergraduate students registered in the University of Chicago and in other colleges and universities in the Chicago area are eligible for residence in International House. Accommodations are available also to visiting foreign faculty members, research associates, and fellows.

The cultural and social program of International House affords numerous opportunities for students to become acquainted with those from other lands and to acquire a knowledge of their customs and culture. Meetings of language groups and presentation of foreign-language motion pictures provide excellent opportunities for those who wish to acquire practice in the use of other languages. Informal discussion groups are organized to present historical, political, and sociological aspects of life in other countries as interpreted by students native to these lands. Social events in the House program have an international emphasis. Industrial and recreational tours are organized each quarter to acquaint residents with different aspects of life in the Chicago area.

The Office of the Adviser to Foreign Visitors is located in International House. Counseling service is offered to all foreign students in the area. Interest in the problems of the foreign student is not limited to those of an official nature. Students are invited to call upon the Adviser or other members of the House staff in any matters upon which they feel the need of assistance.

All inquiries should be addressed to the Office of Admissions, International House, 1414 East Fifty-ninth Street, Chicago 37.

XXI. THE CHAPEL

JOHN B. THOMPSON, A.B., D.B., D.D., Dean of the Chapel, and Associate Professor of Christian Ethics, Federated Theological Faculty.
RICHARD E. VIKSTROM, Director of Chapel Music.
HEINRICH FLEISCHER, PH.D., University Organist.
JAMES R. LAWSON, A.B., LAUREAT, Chapel Carillonneur.

Sunday morning services of worship are held throughout the academic year in the Rockefeller Memorial Chapel. Students and faculty members participate in the service. The Dean preaches on about half the Sundays of each quarter; on the other Sundays the guest preachers include members of the Federated Theological Faculty and outstanding churchmen from all parts of the nation and abroad. Special services are scheduled for the major seasons of the Church Year: Advent, Christmas, Lent, Holy Week, and Pentecost. The sacrament of Holy Communion is celebrated each quarter. The Chapel is open daily for private meditation and prayer.

Membership in the University Choir is open to all qualified students. The Choir sings at the Sunday services and, accompanied by members of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, gives four or five major concerts each year. These include such works as Handel's The Messiah, Bach's St. Matthew Passion and Mass in B Minor as well as modern works of sacred music. Frequent organ concerts are given by the University Organist and by distinguished guest organists. Carillon concerts are played each Sunday and Wednesday by the Chapel Carillonneur.

The University Chapel is the center of a wide variety of student groups organized for religious fellowship and activities within the University and for social service in the city.
These groups plan their own programs with the advice of counselors or of student pastors chosen by the authorities of their respective churches. The Jewish and Roman Catholic groups have houses of their own for their activities near the Quadrangles. A number of Protestant groups co-operate with the University in maintaining Chapel House, a building adjacent to the Chapel at 5810 Woodlawn Avenue, for their joint activities. Information may be secured, and appointments with the officers or counselors of the several groups may be made, through the Chapel office.

XXII. PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The University maintains one of the finest collegiate athletic plants in the country, and it encourages the broadest participation of its students in the Physical Education Program.

The Frank Dickinson Bartlett Gymnasium provides extensive basketball facilities, and classroom space for wrestling, fencing, squash, weight lifting, and handball. The men's swimming pool is located in the gymnasium. The Field House provides facilities for practice and enjoyment of a variety of athletic sports under favorable conditions in cold months and in bad weather. It contains a removable basketball floor, a track, a baseball diamond, five tennis courts, a golf-driving range, and a football practice field. The University also maintains sixteen outdoor tennis courts, two large playing fields, baseball facilities, golf greens, lawn-bowling rinks, a one-quarter-mile cinder track, and an ice-skating and hockey rink.

Ida Noyes Hall provides equipment for the program of athletics for women. The building contains a gymnasium, dance room, games room, swimming pool, golf cages, bowling alleys, billiard room, and shower and dressing quarters. In the garden just north of the building there is a practice golf green. To the south of Ida Noyes Hall is the Midway Plaisance, where the Chicago Park District provides three hockey fields.

XXIII. THE STUDENT HEALTH SERVICE

WILLIAM LESTER, JR., S.B., M.D., Director of the Student Health Service and Associate Professor of Medicine.
WALTER H. BRILL, JR., S.B., M.D., Assistant Director of the Student Health Service and Instructor in Medicine.
CLIFTON C. RHEAD, JR., M.D., Assistant Director and Psychiatrist of the Student Health Service and Assistant Professor of Psychiatry.
GLEN E. HAYDEN, M.D., Instructor in Obstetrics and Gynecology.
NANDOR SZENT-GYORGYI, M.D., Instructor in Medicine.
HENRIETTE NEEHELES, M.D., Assistant in Medicine.
GEORGE J. PROCHNOW, M.D., Assistant in Medicine.
RUTH E. TAYLOR, M.D., Assistant in Medicine.
OLEV R. AAVIK, JR., M.D., Resident in Dermatology.

The Student Health center is a part of the medical plant of the University, which is comprised of hospitals, clinics, and medical-research facilities that are world famous. The complete facilities of the Health Service are available to all students in the quarters when they are registered and for a week following any such quarter.

Each student is given a complete physical evaluation at the time of his admission to the University, and thereafter annual re-examination is made for diseases which might otherwise go undetected. The Health Service provides virtually complete medical care, except for illness or defects existing before the student's admission to the University, and in these cases the same care is provided unless unusually expensive medical or surgical treatment is required. Elective surgery is not supported; and although ordinary dental care and the fitting of glasses are not included in the service, the latter is available to students at their own expense by referral from the Student Health Service to the Department of Ophthalmology, University Clinics. Medicines are not paid for by the Health Service except during hospitalization. Students are hospitalized in the University Hospitals whenever, in the judgment of the Health Service, it is necessary. Costs of hospitalization are then covered by the Health Service up to a limit of three weeks for any single illness.

Failure on the part of the student to report for the entrance medical examination within the first two weeks of the quarter, or to keep an appointment already made for such examination, necessitates the payment of a $3.00 late fee.

Students should present themselves for re-examination at the expiration of one year either from their original entrance examination or from their last annual checkup.

Since any illness can best be diagnosed in the clinic, emergency room, or hospital, the Health Service discourages house or room calls. This service should be requested only in an emergency.

XXIV. SUGGESTIONS FOR PRE-LEGAL STUDY

The Law School does not require that applicants for admission present college credit in any specified subjects. A broad general education is thought more important for the student of law than specialized study in fields closely related to law.

Such a general education should include study of the social sciences, including economics and history; the humanities, especially philosophy and literature; and the elements of physical and biological sciences and mathematics. It is also of great importance that a law student should have acquired habits of precision, fluency, and economy in writing and speaking.

A list of books suggested for college students considering the study of law may be secured from the office of the Dean. A booklet by members of the faculty on The Study and Practice of Law may be ordered for fifty cents from the University of Chicago Bookstore, Fifty-eighth Street and Ellis Avenue, Chicago 37. On the request addressed to the Dean’s Office, copies will be sent to college pre-legal advisers and other faculty members interested in legal education.

XXV. FEES AND OTHER INFORMATION

Application fee. An application fee of $5.00 must accompany the original application for admission to the University. No part of the fee is refundable nor is it applicable as an advance payment on other fees.

Tuition fee. The tuition fee in the Law School is $246 a quarter. A student is required to pay full tuition unless a reduced program of work and a reduction of fees are approved by the Dean.

Residence hall fees. Single rooms, together with meals, are available in Mary Beecher Hall at a cost of $810 for the nine-month academic year. There are a few double rooms at a rate of $780 per person for the same period.

Deposit on admission. An applicant who is accepted for admission into the Law School is required to make a deposit of $35 within four weeks after notice of acceptance has been sent. This deposit will be applied on the tuition fee and will be refunded only in the event that illness or other sufficient cause prevents an applicant from entering the School at the beginning of the quarter for which he has been accepted.
